"Make music so good that everyone in the room, believer or not, walks away feeling like they experienced something real."

ABOUT

Danny and the Fig Atones are a soul-gospel jam band from Bainbridge Island, Washington, led by pianist and vocalist Danny Figgins. Danny has been making music on the island since the early '80s, earning a BA in music from the University of Washington and performing worldwide as an inaugural member of the award-winning vocal group Kickshaw, where he shared stages with Huey Lewis, Starship, and Crystal Gayle. After nearly a decade directing music and worship for the Seattle Church of Christ, Danny turned his attention to building a full band that could channel his decades of jazz, soul, and gospel experience into high-energy, improvisational live performance.

Rooted in authentic faith but built for every room, Danny and the Fig Atones occupy rare territory in today's music landscape: a genuine jam band with gospel soul, playing with the kind of musicianship and spontaneity that fans of Galactic, Dave Matthews Band, and Robert Randolph will recognize immediately. As the flagship act of the Pneuma Kingdom Music Collective, a portion of every ticket supports clean water, education, and community development worldwide.
